

Job Title	Head of Mission
Mission	PLAY International Kosovo
Location of post	Pristina
Reports to	Head of Operations

Purpose of the job:

To provide overall leadership for the PLAY International Mission in Kosovo and the Western Balkans. The Head of Mission is both the key link between the country operation and the Headquarters in Paris, and the glue that binds the different aspects of the Mission's work together. Whilst being responsible for the overall success of the Mission, the key areas of focus include strategic planning, fundraising, human resource management, partnerships development, public relations and financial oversight.

Context of the position:

PLAY International has been registered in Kosovo since 2002, using sport to build bridges and promote peace and reconciliation between communities on a national and international level. New large-scale funding opportunities from 2019 have enabled the Mission to scale up its engagement in the formal and non-formal education sector, with a focus on inclusion, access and retention in school for vulnerable groups, and active education. Working on several complimentary initiatives at the same time, PLAY actively engages local partners and multipliers to ensure sustainability and impact.

Leading a small, busy team towards the achievement of PLAY's 2025 strategic goals, relies on a Head of Mission who is effective in multiple areas. Success in the Mission's context is reliant on effective fundraising and partnership development combined with strong, empathetic human resources management and capacity building. With PLAY's ambitious goals in the thematic areas of education and social cohesion, the Head of Mission must demonstrate an ability to see the big picture as well as an attention to detail, which goes hand in hand with working in a developing country context.

Main Duties and Responsibilities:

Strategy and mission development

Strategy

- Bring the Mission strategy in Kosovo and Western Balkan to life for the team and external stakeholders and update it on a yearly basis;
- Analyse development needs in Kosovo and design new programs accordingly.

Fundraising

- Develop and implement the regionalisation strategy and identify relevant partners and donors in neighbouring countries (Serbia, North Macedonia, etc.);
- Monitor donor strategies, identify calls for proposals and seek funding opportunities;
- Develop and implement fundraising diversification work;
- Manage public relations with donors.
- Ensure the visibility and promotion of PLAY's work in Kosovo and the Western Balkans;

Programs

- Provide strategic support for the design of project activities;
- Oversee the implementation of the project activities and associated project implementation tasks (monitoring and evaluation, comms, risk management etc);
- Review and validate narrative and financial reporting to donors.
- Develop and broaden a network of institutional and civil-society partners;

Human Resource Management

- Supervise and line-manage staff members of the Kosovo Mission;
- Manage the recruitment of new staff;
- Ensure continuous capacity-building of the Kosovo team;
- Ensure PLAY procedures are in line with Kosovo laws.
- Assess risk levels and their potential impact on PLAY International work in the region;
- Ensure that PLAY staff are able to carry out their work in a safe environment.

Financial Management

- Support the Mission's Finance Manager in producing and updating key financial documents (annual Mission budget; cashflow forecasting; human resource planning etc);
- Ensure PLAY's accounting and financial procedures are respected and in line with Kosovo law;
- Follow up the accounting on a monthly basis and ensure donor requirements are respected;
- Provide oversight for project-based budget planning and implementation.
